

Nonlinear Optimization

Christian Rossi

Academic Year 2024-2025

Abstract

The course aims to present the main methods for non-linear optimization, both continuous and discrete. Topics include: optimality conditions for both unconstrained and constrained problems, Lagrangian functions, and duality; gradient-based methods, Newton's methods, and step-size reduction techniques; recursive quadratic programming; and methods using penalty functions.

Contents

1	Introduction	1
---	--------------	---

CHAPTER 1

Introduction
